"Over There"

With the Australians

By Captain R. Hugh Knyvett

Anzac Scout

Captain Knyvett's Personal Narrative

Captain Hugh Knyvett, whose extraordinary successes as a lecturer upon the war have resulted in many glittering offers to publish an account of his personal experiences, has now at last yielded, his account of "The Human Snowballs," the little nucleus of men that started out to enlist, gathering adherents with every day's march, growing ever larger and larger as they went, is one of the most picturesque and rousing chapters that have been or ever will be written on the war.

Knyvett went into the ranks of the Australians and fought through the splendid tragedy of Gallipoli, "The Adventure of Youth."

The rest of the story is of warfare in France—the Somme, Bapaume, and so on. But this is presented from an angle altogether novel: the author had risen rapidly through the grades of "non-com" up to commissioned officer, and this had given him the chance to reveal his special alertness and ingenuity; he was delegated to the thrilling business of intelligence gathering—the most dangerous and useful branch of the service which in this war has developed on entirely new lines.

Among the Chapter Headings Are:

Crawling as Essential as Flying.

Nights in No Man's Land.

How to Get Behind the German Lines.

The Only Possible Peace

By Dr. Frederic C. Howe

Commissioner of Immigration at the Port of New York, author of "Why War," "The High Cost Living." $1.25 net.

Dr. Howe sees the European war from an entirely new angle as a struggle for imperialism of world states and primarily economic. He sketches the economic development of Germany, the colossal banking institutions, the industrial imperialistic classes that have risen to power during the last twenty-five years, and traces the war to the industrial rather than to the Junker classes. The road to a durable peace is through ending the struggle for exclusive territories. He would internationalize the Mediterranean, the Balkan states, Turkey, and Asia Minor. His conclusions are in line with those of President Wilson, the Russian revolution, and the peoples of Europe.

Credit of the Nations

A STUDY OF THE EUROPEAN WAR.

By J. Laurence Laughlin

Professor of Political Economy in the University of Chicago. With 8 charts. $3.50 net.

This impressive and deeply interesting study of war finance up to the entrance of our country as a belligerent is the result of the closest scrutiny of the operations of the belligerents. The distinguished economist, who has had this work in preparation since August, 1914, divides it into five main topics: "The Economic Situation Preceding the War," "War and Credit," "English Credit Operations," "French Money and Credit," and "German Credit Operations."

The Earthquake

By Arthur Train

It describes in a way which conveys much shrewd and useful advice the adventures and reactions of a typical American family. They found that America was not only "at war," but "in" the war to the hilt, and proceeded, each member in his own way, to do his bit. $1.50 net

His Daughter

By Gouverneur Morris

After a series of intrigues—so that the only true quality in the hero's life is his intense love for Ellen, his daughter—both he and his loyal wife plunge into the war, he as aviator and she as nurse, and in the ordeals which there confront them the dross of his nature is destroyed and he is able to make, in some measure, reparation and to regain at last both his wife's respect and his own. $1.35 net

The Flower and the Bee: POLLINATION AND PLANT LIFE

By John H. Lovell

Biological Editor of the "Cyclopedia of Bee Culture"
Profusely illustrated by photographs taken by the author. $2.00 net

This book answers a long felt need for a popular exposition suitable to amateur gardeners, bee-keepers, and lovers of nature generally of the subject of pollination; fascinating not only because of its very great informative value, but because of the sense which it imparts of the beauty of nature as revealed in the subject. Briefly, its chief topics are the functions of bees, beetles, flies, and the wind in interrelation to the flowers, especially respecting pollination. In presenting this the pictures assist far more than ordinarily, for, taken by a special process, they are of an extraordinary clarity and perfection.

Flora of Bermuda

By Nathaniel Lord Britton, Ph.D., Sc.D., LL.D.

Director-in-Chief of the New York Botanical Garden, Professor in Columbia University, assisted by other investigators.

The "Flora of Bermuda" contains descriptions and illustrations of all the wild flowering plants, ferns, and mosses of these very interesting and beautiful little islands, isolated in the Atlantic Ocean, together with descriptions of the many kinds of cultivated plants in the attractive gardens and public places. The work is one of the most complete accounts of the plant life of a region ever published. In Press.

EXTRAORDINARY SPRING LIST

... FICTION ...

BOY WOODBURN*(March 8th)Alfred Ollivant

The author of "Bob, Son of Battle" has written even a more wonderful tale with "Boy" (her real name is Joyce) as the central figure. A love for horseflesh and the real things in life endear her to the reader, while the surrounding characters seem to have come straight from the pen of Dickens.

*Net, $1.40GERTIE SWARTZ: Fanatic or Christian?(March 8th)Helen R. Martin

Another Mennonite story presented with the curious situation of a modern manufacturing business in the hands of a thrifty Pennsylvania Dutch family. The contrasting types are a pure joy to the reader. The author of "Those Fitzenburgers" and "Martha of the Mennonite Country" has given us even a better story in this new book.

*Net, $1.40SIMBA(March 8th)Stewart Edward White

Simba, a yelling, naked savage, knew but one thing—loyalty and devotion to his white master. African magic and mystery—a world of high adventure with not a little humor. Several characters of "The Leopard Woman" are back again to greet their friends.

*Net, $1.40THE UNSEEN HAND(March 22d)Clarence Herbert New

Masters of intrigue are these free lances of diplomacy. Long before events transpired, this clique of mysterious agents gave hints of their approach, through the medium of the great European dailies. Thrilling, indeed, is this story of love and adventure written by "a man in the know."

MAKING HER HIS WIFE(March 22nd)*Corra Harris

Mrs. Harris exposes the foibles and frailties of newly made man-and-wife nature with sparkling conversation and exciting incident, in this new book. The mating of the girl, used to luxury, and the man from the drowsy Southern town, provide the interesting basis for the story.

Net, $1.30THE HOLY CITY(April 12th)*Selma Lagerlöf

This timely sequel to the author's already great epic, "Jerusalem." The Dalecarnians are now in that city working in the colony founded by Americans. The recent capture of The Holy City by the British but enhances the interest.

Net, $1.50PIECES OF EIGHT(April 12th)*Richard Le Gallienne

This master of word painting has written a modern tale of buried treasure and the Spanish Main, in the fanciful, beautiful way he knows best. Moonlight caverns, the tropic sea, daggers, and the glamorous quest for doubloons are woven into the plot.

Net, $1.40THE MAKING OF GEORGE GROTON(April 12th)*Bruce Barton

George Groton, the country lad, comes to grips with life "in the real," in the great metropolis, as he fights his way to success in love and in business. The humanly philosophical observances make the book a lasting memory.

Net, $1.40SHANDYGAFF(April 12th)*Christopher Morley

Tobacco, books, hay fever, the joys of commuters, Don Marquis, Rupert Brooks, William McFee and the President of the United States, are among the topics treated. The attention of the learned is particularly called to the appendix, which shows how the volume may be made surpassingly valuable in the classroom.

Eleanor H. Porter's
OH, MONEY! MONEY!

The story of a New England Cinderella and a Western millionaire. Never has Mrs. Porter had a theme better suited to her unique gifts as a story-teller than "Oh, Money! Money!" and never has she written a book so full of inspiration, human interest and the romance of everyday life. Every reader will say, "What would I do with an unexpected fortune?" Every reader will imagine the enjoyment of spending it. And every reader will at last close the book agreeing with "Poor Maggie" that "If you don't know how to get happiness out of five dollars, you won't know how to get it out of five thousand. For it isn't the money that does things; it's the man behind the money." Illustrated. $1.50 net. Probably Ready March 21.

Author of "Smith of Bear City"

Frontispiece by MAYNARD DIXON. Pen-and-Ink Illustrations by FRANK T. MERRILL

12mo, Cloth. Price, $1.35

Mr. Buffum thoroughly knows his "two frontiers," South Africa and our own West of a generation ago. Not since Bret Harte has any one told so well of the golden days of mining towns with their recklessness, as conspicuous in generosity, heroism, and chivalry as in the grosser side of free life, in referring to which Mr. Buffum never offends against good taste. The stories of the "East," which naturally begin the book, bring the life of the veldt, the desert, and the diamond mine before the reader with absorbing vividness. Pleasing humor, dramatic force, excellent English, and thorough knowledge of that of which the author writes combine to make an unusual book.

THRIFT IN THE HOUSEHOLD

By DORA MORRELL HUGHES

12mo, Cloth. Price, $1.25

Mrs. Hughes, a trained editor of domestic magazines, and at various times a contributor to nearly four hundred different publications, is now a home-maker, representing the third generation of notable skill in cooking and household management. She shows by recitals and recipes how food may be made more palatable as well as nourishing, while costing surprisingly less than is often the case, and how efficient management in all household matters will not only save the dollars, but produce the greatest economy of all, the saving of the mistress herself. This book can save its cost in a week if given a chance, and will be the prized companion of many a puzzled housewife. A book of especial value this year.

THE AZTEC-HUNTERS

Third Volume of "MUSEUM BOOKS"

By FRANCIS ROLT-WHEELER

With thirty-seven illustrations from photographs. Price, $1.35

Combining the excitement of exploration with the intense grip of a mystery story, Dr. Rolt-Wheeler unlocks a new and unknown chapter of American history in his "Aztec-Hunters." The true romance of a vast and powerful American civilization, which flourished more than a thousand years before Columbus landed, is here told, absolutely for the first time. Forty cities, as large as those of modern times, have been snatched from the jaguar-haunted jungle to tell the story of a great commercial empire, comparable to those of Egypt, Greece, and Rome.

THE PAWNS COUNT

"America first, America only, America always," is the motto of the heroine of Oppenheim's new novel of international intrigue, in which he unveils the machinations of the pro-German plotters in the United States.

CABIN FEVER

Too much monotony and mother-in-law plunge Bud Moore into a sea of trouble, and in the guise of a prospector he seeks and finds adventure and finally happiness on a mining claim in the mountains. A book of the kind that has made this author famous.

THE WOLF-CUB

A romance of modern Spain unusual in theme and setting and unhackneyed from beginning to end, this tale of the open road has for its key-note dramatic action that is maintained to the very end.

THE HOUSE OF WHISPERS

An up-to-date mystery story with an original plot laid in novel surroundings, by the author of "Limpy," etc.

THE HOPE CHEST

When Tom Ballantine married the prize beauty in his millionaire father's chain of candy stores, there began a series of romantic adventures decidedly not of the melodramatic sort. Here is a social comedy of a high order to please the most exacting reader.

SUNSHINE BEGGARS

"Beggars," the indignant townsfolk called the poverty-stricken Bertollottis, when they came to live under the very eaves of the aristocratic Hopkins mansion; but the tale of how the newcomers injected a little art and beauty into the narrow conventional American community makes a story full of human nature.

THE BIOGRAPHY OF A MILLION DOLLARS

A romance of business told with dramatic intensity. A story of speed, of greed, love and hate, ambition and distrust, in which the career of a typical American business man is portrayed.

MRS. MARDEN'S ORDEAL

A young society matron loses her memory following the discovery of the murder of a guest at her reception. She alone holds the key to the mystery, and the unsolving makes an absorbing tale.

The Leading Books on the Spring

CAROLYN OF THE CORNERS

By Ruth Belmore Endicott

The "look-up" book for 1918. Six times since it came out on January 31st we have had to go to press with a new edition, not only because we are advertising it but because it's a thoroughly good little story. Enthusiastic readers are heartily commending Carolyn's philosophy to their friends everywhere. "Every copy will sell another," says a prominent bookseller.".....Illus., $1.35 net

THE NE'ER-DO-MUCH

By Eleanor Hallowell Abbott

Author of "Molly Make-Believe," etc.

The audacious ingeniousness of its author attracts you first, but it is such a good story anyway that you become interested immediately. An original idea which piques one's curiosity.

Illus. by James Montgomery Flagg, $1.00 net.

SHOT WITH CRIMSON

By George Barr McCutcheon

Author of "Graustark," "Green Fancy," etc.

The new McCutcheon book is a mystery story of German espionage in the United States—an interesting enigma involving several prominent Americans and a number of the cleverest of the Kaiser's agents that for ingeniousness of execution is quite up to McCutcheon's best work in the days of "Graustark." $1.00 net.

THE THREE OF HEARTS

By Berta Ruck

Author of "His Official Fiancée," "Miss Million's Maid," etc.

Proposing to a girl is a great event in the life of almost any young man, however hardened, but Berta Ruck's new hero proposed to three in one evening and was accepted by all three. The story of his emergence from this alarming predicament is delightfully amusing. Illus., $1.40 net.

THE GRAFTONS

By Archibald Marshall

Author of "Exton Manor," "Abington Abbey," etc.

More of the interesting new English family Mr. Marshall introduced in "Abington Abbey" where we left the daughters of the Abbey unmated with the promise of further revelations in a book to come. That book is here in "The Graftons." Uniform in binding with the author's other works......$1.50 net.

THE FLAME

By Olive Wadsley

Author of "Possession," "Conquest," etc.

"We read the books of Galsworthy, of Walpole and of Wells with our intellects; we read a book like this one by Olive Wadsley with our hearts." In plot, in characterization, in every way, this is Miss Wadsley's finest novel. Toni Saumerez is easily her best heroine.

$1.40 net.

GREAT GHOST STORIES

With a Preface by

Prof. James G. Hyslop

Secretary, American Society for Physical Research.

Thrilling adventures in the realm of the supernatural. A collection of the best ghost stories in literature that will satisfy the widest range of interest from that of the jaded literary exquisite to the mere seeker for entertainment. $1.50 net.

THE JOYOUS TROUBLE-MAKER

By Jackson Gregory

Author of "Wolf Breed," "The Short Cut," etc.

A romance of the West, an imperious heroine and a most unmanageable hero—a real Jackson Gregory tale, full of adventure the kind that grows on the Western plains.

Frontispiece in color. $1.40 net.

TALES OF WARTIME FRANCE

Translated by William L. McPherson

A unique volume of short French war stories containing the best work done in France in the short story. Fifteen of them were double and two were triple starred by Mr. Edward J. O'Brien in "The Best Short Stories of 1917." $1.25 net.

EUROPE'S FATEFUL HOUR

By G. Ferrer

Author of "Ancient Rome and Modern America," etc.

The war from the point of view of a great Italian historian and publicist whose studies of Roman history have made him world famous as an interpreter of the human aspects of the conflicts attending the rise and fall of nations. Demi 8vo, $2.00 net.

JAPAN AT FIRST HAND

By Joseph I. C. Clarke

The latest facts about Japan and Japanese business to-day—her war-time trade, expansion and commercial outreach, gathered at first hand by a well-known writer on oriental affairs. 70 illustrations, 8vo. $2.50 net.

CONSCRIPT 2989

By

A Drafted Man

A humorously human description of life in a big National Army Cantonment by a drafted man who did not want to go until he got there. Every mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, sister, brother, sweetheart, aunt, uncle, cousin or friend of our thousands of boys in the service will be hugely amused by these experiences of Conscript 2989. With text illustrations by H. B. Martin. $1.00 net

THE MIRACLE OF ST. ANTHONY: A Play

By Maurice Maeterlinck

A humorous satire. This is the authorized edition translated by Alexander Teixeira de Mattos. It contains a biographical sketch by Edward Thomas. Portrait frontispiece. Uniform in binding with the author's other works. 12mo, cloth, $1.50 net; limp leather, $1.75 net.

WHEN A MAN COMMUTES

By Alan Dale

Author of "The Great Wet Way," etc.

How a noted humorist becomes a commuter and succumbs to suburbanism. His telling of it will tickle the most dormant sense of humor. Text illustrations by H. B. Martin, $1.25 net.

72 Days Escaping Outwitting

By Lieutenant

O'Brien is the first American to escape from Germany single-handed! He was shot down over 8000 feet in the air and crashed behind the German lines, where he lay---shot through the mouth---among the debris of his machine---a prisoner! He was taken from one prison camp to another and at last, smarting and furious from the insults and taunts of his guards, he leapt through the window of a moving train out into the darkness.

MEN IN WAR

By ANDREAS LATZKO
An Austrian Army Officer

The N. Y. Evening Post said on January 12th, 1918, "'Menchen im Krieg' (Men in War) has not yet been translated . . . it is a book that is notable among the war's great literary products. Its vitality exceeds that of our present best sellers. . . . 'Le Feu' (Under Fire) is realism, 'Menchen im Krieg' is artistic realism. From it we get a total impression that is more complete than that suggested by Barbusse."

"The war has inspired two masterpieces: 'Under Fire' by the French soldier Barbusse and 'Men in War' by the Austrian officer, Andreas Latzko, an even more poignant interpretation of the effect of the war on human beings than Barbusse's novel. This book is announced for publication March 15th."—N. Y. Evening Mail, February 23rd, 1918.

HURLBUT'S STORY of the CHRISTIAN CHURCH

By Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D.,

Author of Hurlbut's Story of the Bible, Hurlbut's Story of Jesus, etc.

The author has sought to supply a book accurate in all its statements and at the same time in a style interesting and attractive that gives the history of an institution which has existed for nearly twenty centuries, extending over every continent of the earth, directed by some mighty men and touching with power untold millions of people.

The spirit of the church, the stream of its tendency, the causes leading to historic events, and the events flowing from them, have been made the center of interest.

Arranged for General Reading and for Use as a Text-book

It gives a smooth narrative, unbroken by topic heads, so that it may be read continuously as an interesting story. It is also arranged with outline references upon the margins, so that it can be used as a text-book for students, either as individuals or in classes. Black-board outline and review questions are also included.

CLEAR NUTYPE TESTAMENT

WITH A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WILSON

is a Testament that will be prized by anyone receiving it. It is printed from remarkably large, clear, easily read type and is smaller in size than the many small type Testaments on the market.

ST. MATTHEW.

thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I have not sowed, and gather where I have not strawed;

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away

Parable of the talents. [64]

even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

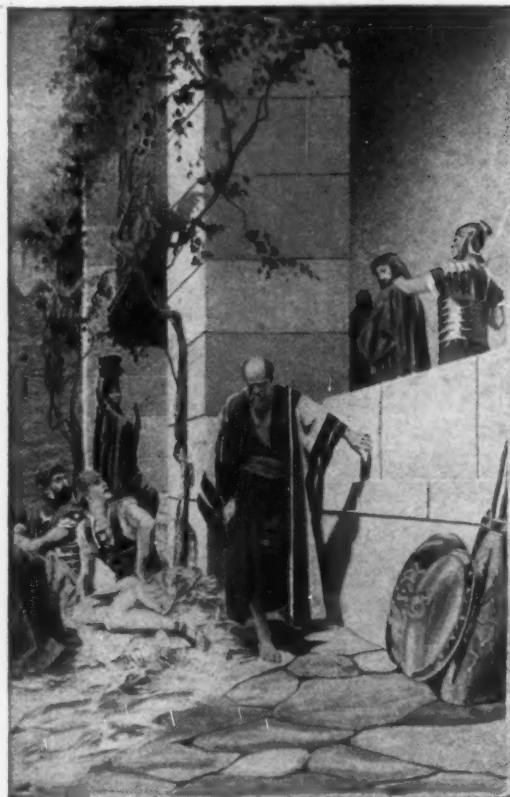

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him,

Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

OUR REVOLUTION

By LEON TROTZKY

ESSAYS ON WORKING CLASS AND INTERNATIONAL REVOLUTION (1904-1917)

Collected and translated, with biography and explanatory notes by Moissaye J. Olgin, author of "The Soul of the Russian Revolution." $1.25 net. Just ready.

THE READER may agree or disagree with Trotzky's views and acts, but these writings of his, which twelve years ago pictured an imaginary world, seem today but the history of an accomplished episode. They show a continuity of revolutionary doctrine unrealized by most of the world outside Russia, with which it behooves English readers to become acquainted.

This book contains the one English translation of the theoretical portions of Trotzky's book, "Our Revolution," published in Russia in 1906 in defiance of censorship and immediately suppressed. This is Trotzky's clearest exposition of his views. The present translation is from one of but two or three copies of the original in America.

This volume includes, in addition, a brief biography (Mr. Olgin has known Trotzky intimately for ten years); essays written in 1904, before the abortive revolution of 1905, predicting revolution; an essay written ten days after the revolution of 1905; an essay on the Workingmen's Council of 1905, of which Trotzky was Chairman; the preface to Trotzky's "My Round Trip," an account of his exile to Siberia, expressing his ironclad certainty of a Russian revolution; and several essays written in New York before Trotzky left for Petrograd in July, 1917.

NEXO'S PELLE THE CONQUEROR

EXPLANATION AND ANNOUNCEMENT

The publication of the translation of "Pelle, the Conqueror" was started as a joint enterprise with a British publisher. War conditions have made it impracticable to draw further supplies from England. The book is now printed here in a two-volume edition ($2.00 net a volume). The volumes run to about 600 pages each, and will be, roughly, uniform with one of the De Morgan novels.

FORTHCOMING SPRING BOOKS

Some Honeymoon!

By CHARLES EVERETT HALL.

12mo, cloth, illustrated and with colored jacket, net $1.25.

Does a man know whom he marries when he takes him a wife? A story full of ludicrous situations and absurd predicaments, painful perhaps for the participants, but inexpressibly funny to the onlooker. A farce-comedy of high order and one sure to be talked about.

The Imprisoned Freeman

By HELEN S. WOODRUFF, author of "The Lady of The Lighthouse," "Mr. Doctorman," etc.

12mo, cloth, net $1.35.

Courageously exposing the real significance of some of our laws which admit of the perpetration of atrocities, this virile American novel is the author's best work. But aside from this, its underlying and deeper note, this human-interest story possesses the charm, pathos, delicious humor and exquisite poetic imagination which has characterized Mrs. Woodruff's earlier work. No voter, man or woman, should fail to read it for its serious side. No lover of a thrilling novel should fail to read it, because it is the gladness, and not the sadness, of the optimistic author which makes the book so doubly worth while.

The Diamond Cross Mystery

By CHESTER K. STEELE, author of "The Mansion of Mystery."

12mo, cloth, illustrated and with colored jacket, net $1.25.

Here is something positively new in the line of mystery stories. Colonel Ashley, a military man turned detective, is a character that once known is never to be forgotten. The plot hinges on a murder and the mysterious disappearance of a cross of diamonds, and suspicion points to the lover of one of the sweetest girls ever introduced in fiction. And then—and this is unusual in a detective story—there is some real humor, the trail of Spotty, who was willing to confess to anything.

Making Good with Margaret

By E. WARD STRAYER.

12mo, cloth, illustrated and with colored jacket, net $1.25.

Ross Goodwin, just graduated from Yale, falls heir to his uncle's property, including a large contracting business. Margaret Poole, a girl he has loved from childhood, wants him to become a professional man. He is awarded a big contract in the face of fierce competition, and his enemies set to work to handicap him in every possible way. Meanwhile a young doctor sets out to make love to Margaret and he, too, does what he can to bring the young contractor's efforts to naught. A strong, up-to-date story of love and business.

Signs, Omens and Superstitions

By ASTRA CIELO, author of "Fortune and Dreams."

12mo, cloth, net 75 cents.

There are few persons no matter how rational or level-headed who are not given to superstition in some form. With some there is a deep-seated belief that evil will result from an infraction of a rule. With others an amused idea that if a ceremony does no good it can do no harm, and so to be on the safe side they carry out Some Mummery.

It is the object of this book to review the subject of superstition without prejudice or condemnation, but to present the data and explain their origin wherever possible, leaving it to the reader to reject such beliefs as seem absurd and irreconcilable with modern culture.

THE SPRING BOOKS

JUDGING from the size of the Spring Announcement list printed with this number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, book production in this country continues to mount steadily toward pre-war figures. As compared with the 3482 entries in the list in 1914, 2724 in 1916, and 2921 in 1917, this year's list, containing 3256 entries, is very nearly on a par with the spring of 1914—tho yet a long way from the 4024 of 1912. These totals, it should be remembered, represent something less than half that number of titles.

Yet, in other respects than mere numbers, it is an unusual spring output. Fiction continues to occupy its unwonted seat among the lesser brethren, tho such books as Miss Sinclair's "Tree of Heaven" and McFee's "Aliens" assure plenty of good reading for those with only moderate fiction appetites. Biography, which last year flashed forth like a sudden blazing comet, seems to have resumed its former steady-going and comparatively unspectacular course—at least it shows little sign of again claiming the title it held last fall of "the most notable feature of the literary output of the year." In military books, if the present output continues, we shall soon have a national library that would rejoice the heart of a Prussian general. Several notable garden books are to be issued during the spring and business books are acquiring a more and more assured footing in the lists.

War books, of course, hold the center of the stage, with "Over the Top" still selling heavily and a host of new titles ready or announced for early publication. Aviation books, particularly personal records like James Norman Hall's "High Adventure," bid fair to be leaders among these war books.

Books on the specific problems of reconstruction after the war are comparatively rare for the easily explicable reason that the world is changing so rapidly as to make an investment in a volume of this sort to-day an unusually speculative venture for the publisher. One curious feature of the spring war books is the downright flood of "Over Here" "Over There" titles. Picking at random from the list we find an array to turn the bookseller's hair gray: "Over Here" by Guest (Reilly & Britton); "Over Here" by MacQuarrie (Lippincott); "War-time 'Over Here'" by Knight (Pilgrim); "Over There" by Knyvett (Scribner); "Over There" by Kelly (Bobbs-Merrill); "Over There and Back" by Smith (Dutton); "Out There" by Whitehair (Appleton); "Out There" by Manners (Dodd Mead)—and a careful search would doubtless yield additional titles.

An important question confronting every publisher, and also every bookseller, is: How long will the demand for war books continue at its present height? There is a general tendency thruout the publishing trade to be a bit more cautious about war manuscripts as April, 1917, drops further and further behind us, remembering the slump in such books some months after August, 1914, but at the same time both publisher and bookseller feel that a really good war book is apt to continue, for some months at any rate, to be a most justifiable and profitable investment.

THE publishers who deal with foreign authors should not overlook the fact in making their revenue returns, which must be done within this month of March, that royalties paid abroad are subject to 2% tax, which must be withheld by the publisher from royalty payments. The War Revenue Act, providing for this payment in a section which is printed in full elsewhere, became law October 3, 1917, but it was retroactive in terms and the entire outgo and expenditure of the calendar year 1917 must be included in the tax returns. This is a serious embarrassment to publishers who paid their royalties for the early part of the year, previous to the passage of the law, or later in the year after its passage, without having before them the section of the law and the opinion of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which also we quote elsewhere. There are, in fact, a number of complications in this respect in a law full of complications, and it will take counsel expert indeed to inform publishers just what is their liability in this matter and where it stops. The evident thing seems to be that on royalties actually paid during 1917 the publisher must pay the 2% tax with possibility of deducting such tax payments from the next accounting to the author.

THE opinion of Judge Manton in the case of Foster v. Callaghan & Co. proves to be of very wide interest to publishers, as will be seen from the reporter's summary printed elsewhere in this issue. Later we expect to find space for the full text of the decision, which emphasizes an element of the contract between publisher and author which should have more consideration than it has had hitherto. We were to some extent in error in stating in a previous editorial note that there had to be a re-hearing on the law as well as proof of the facts. The law is fully considered in Judge Manton's opinion, which will stand unless overruled on appeal. In a later issue we shall be able to give more full consideration to the points involved.

MORE ABOUT SOLDIER READING

FURTHER interesting light on the substantial character of the books being read in our soldier camps is contained in the following paragraphs from the latest A. L. A. War Service Bulletin.

"In one day's issue of books by the American Library Association camp library at Camp Meade, the following subjects were reported: French history, mechanics, topography, and strategy in war, self-propelled vehicles, hand grenades, field entrenchments, bridges, chemistry, physics, astronomy, geology, hydraulics, electricity, mediæval history, calculus, civil engineering, geography, American history, surveying, materials of construction, general history, masonry, concrete. About three-quarters of the books taken out were non-fiction.

"Titles picked at random from one page of a report from the American Library Association camp library at Camp Sherman include: George Ade's 'The Girl Proposition,' Jack London's 'Burning Daylight,' Tolstoi's 'Anna Karenina,' H. G. Wells' 'The Soul of a Bishop,' Ellis' 'Plattsburg Manual,' Meadowcroft's 'A. B. C. of Electricity,' Zerbe's 'Aeroplanes,' Haweis' 'Music and Morals,' Guizot's 'History of Civilization in Europe,' Carlyle's 'French Revolution,' Wells' 'Italy, France and Britain at War,' and Gerard's 'My Four Years in Germany.'"

On the other hand, Mr. Burton E. Stevenson, in charge of the library at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, writes in a recent number of the Outlook:

"Broadly speaking, of course, most of the men read fiction; and most of them prefer exciting, red-blooded fiction—detective stories, adventure stories, and so on. But there is also a steady demand for Conrad and Wells and Hardy and Meredith. Poetry is also in demand, and good books of travel go well." However, he adds: "We have had requests here for every sort of book from 'some books by Gene Stratton-Porter' to Boswell's 'Life of Johnson' and Bergson's 'Creative Evolution.' We have had requests for Ibsen's plays, for books on the valuation of public utilities, on conservation, on sewage disposal; we had so many requests for 'A Message to Garcia' that I had a supply mimeographed. In one building there were so many requests for books on religion and ethics that we set up a small reference collection there."

Mr. Stevenson recently conducted a test to determine the names of periodicals with the widest popular appeal for the soldiers. He posted a list of periodicals in each library building with the following note of instruction: "Place one tally after those you would like to have in this building. Please play fair and do not tally more than twenty magazines." Thirty-one periodicals under this test received more than twenty-five votes apiece. Those that received more than forty votes, as arranged in alphabetical order, and including as nearly as possible half the list, are: American Magazine, Army and Navy Journal, Collier's Weekly, Everybody's, Judge, Leslie's Weekly, Life, Literary Digest, Metropolitan Magazine, Outlook, Physical Culture, Puck, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, Scientific American, and World's Work. The three receiving the most votes were Life, Saturday Evening Post, and Judge.

A writer in a recent number of the Independent who has been distributing books behind the lines in France bears further witness to the demands of the men at the front:

"Light literature was certainly popular. Sentimental novels and books with deathbed endings were not in demand, but Oppenheim and Lincoln may feel they have not lived in vain."

This writer adds, however, that there had also been a demand for "a life of Gordon, Tennyson's poems, a work on elementary law, one on electrical engineering. Paris was scraped for English dictionaries, French-English dictionaries, for atlases, for travel, for Kipling and Seeger and Service and Wells, for 'everything on the Battle of the Marne and on international relations.'" Frequent calls for "a whole Bible" are among the requests, and more than all else song books, hymn books, opera scores, any sort of music which can be sung or played on the varied instruments that are to be found in trench huts. And the stalest Yankee vaudeville songs, if scorned by the Americans, are hailed with delight by the French poilus.

A vivid picture is flashed across to us of the necessary and welcome work being done by library workers among the hungry soldiers in their crowded huts in France: "Scant as the libraries at the front have been and still are, little as they hold of recent publications, they are yet circulating thousands of books and do fine service all of the daytime. But night falls early and lights are not plenty and then comes the need for something lively and new to all. It is half-past five of a cloudy afternoon such as come so often in this damp land. Some four hundred men are packed close as they can crowd within a hut. Here and there a candle held by some willing hand picks out the darkness and before this eager audience stands the secretary, reading Empey's 'Over the Top.' Two soldiers hold pocket electric lamps to light the page, and comrades relieve each other now and then. The book is borrowed, the only copy probably in all the line of huts that, scattered miles apart, serve thousands of men. It must be sent on so soon as may be to the next secretary, and so along the line, until in every hut has been repeated this scene of the intent men sitting and standing in the shadows, the only brightness in the room that falling on the reader's hands."

"BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS" CAMPAIGN MARCH 18-25

THE book-trade has a rare chance for service and profit offered it in the approaching drive by the American Library Association for 2,000,000 books for our soldiers. The $1,700,000 in cash raised last fall has not been found anything like adequate to cover both the maintenance of the excellent work of the Library War Service and the purchase of the required books. Library buildings have been erected in thirty-four of the large camps capable of housing from 10,000 to 15,000 volumes and from 175 to 250 readers. In addition there are branches and small deposit stations thruout the Y. M. C. A. huts and barracks and the work is being extended to the camps in France as rapidly as the facilities at the command of the Library War Service will allow.

March 18-25 has been set aside as National Intensive Book Campaign Week and churches, schools, Boy Scouts, women's clubs, commercial organizations and other organizations have been enlisted in the country-wide drive for the requisite 2,000,000 volumes. The kinds of books particularly desired are set down as follows in the War Library Bulletin, the official publication of the Service:

FICTION

Adventure	Love stories of the best sort.
Western stories.	Stories of business.
Detective stories.	Historical novels.

NON-FICTION

Military science.	Automobiles.
Aeroplanes.	Electricity.
Engineering.	Mechanics.
Agriculture.	Horses.
Business.	Drawing.
Books on the war, especially the "tales from the trenches."
Wireless telegraphy and telephony.
Arithmetic, algebra, geometry, etc.

Letter writing (personal and business); filing.
Poetry, old and new.
Biography, especially autobiography.
Travel and history, especially Western Europe.
French conversation books.
Popular books in foreign languages.

Above all, good books and new books are wanted, not books with loose bindings, or text-books printed before 1910. The committees working for donations of books from private libraries will stress the desirability of giving the books received as gifts in the past holiday season and this widespread demand for the newer books gives every bookseller abundant ammunition with which to carry on a local drive. Window displays and advertising may help move many a slow moving but worth-while volume. It should not be possible for one to get in or anywhere near a bookstore during this week without being reminded of his patriotic duty to furnish one or more of those 2,000,000 books. Grosset & Dunlap are already in the field with an offer of one hundred selected volumes from their list at $22.50, to be disposed of in turn by the dealer at 35 c. or three for a dollar.

The local public library will act as a clearing house and forwarding station for all books collected in its district; many dealers will doubtless follow out the plan described in an earlier issue of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY of having a large, plainly labeled box in the front of the store into which book purchases can be dropped by customers to be forwarded later by the store to the public library. Posters 11 x 14 inches in size, like the one shown below, will be furnished booksellers by the local librarian:

AMERICAN BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

AS we go to press word reaches us that the Annual Convention of the American Booksellers' Association will be held at the Hotel Astor in New York on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 14th, 15th and 16th.

The slogan of the convention will be: A Useful Convention. President Macauley's announcement states:

War-time conditions prevailing, the officers of the association, in conjunction with the officers of the Boston committee, where the next normal times convention, attendant with its social features, is to be held, arrived unanimously at the conclusion that this year's convention should be primarily a business convention, with social features subordinated or eliminated. Under the conditions, it was deemed wise to again defer accepting Boston's invitation, for the plans contemplated for our Boston gathering, while ample as far as business is concerned, provide for more emphasis on social features than is now possible or desirable. Not desiring to postpone definite action further, the officers therefore decided to hold the 18th annual convention in New York as announced above. We will strive hard to meet the government's proper requirement that all such gatherings serve a useful purpose. The whole program being considered by the program committee looks to increased efficiency in bookselling as its primary aim. The first necessity is a large and representative attendance of men and women who come in serious mood, intent on improved conditions in the book business. Make up your mind now to come. Your presence is by all means vitally needed. More than that, we believe that the convention will prove of large and direct benefit to you. Further announcement, with a hint as to the plans of the program committee, will follow shortly.

ALIEN AUTHORS SUBJECT TO INCOME TAX

ALL alien authors—whether enemy aliens or not—are subject to a 2% tax on royalties earned in this country under the War Revenue Act of last year. This tax is deducted at the source by the publisher and it is stated that failure to withhold the tax makes the publisher liable for same. The following opinion on this point has been given out by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue: "Royalties obtained from the sale of books and paid by a publisher, under an agreement, to a non-resident alien individual, are subject to withholding at the rate of 2% as provided in Section 9 (b) of the Act of September 8, 1916, as amended by Section 1205 of the War Revenue Act of October 3, 1917."

Section 1205 of the War Revenue Act referred to by the Commissioner reads as follows:

DEDUCTIONS AT SOURCE, NON-RESIDENT ALIEN

"All persons, corporations, partnerships, associations, and insurance companies, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagors of real or personal property, trustees acting in any trust capacity, executors, administrators, receivers, conservators, employers, and all officers and employees of the United States, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensation, remuneration, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income of any non-resident alien individual, other than income derived from dividends on capital stock, or from the net earnings of a corporation, joint stock company or association, or insurance company, which is taxable upon its net income as provided in this title, are hereby authorized and required to deduct and withhold from such annual or periodical gains, profits, and income such sum as will be sufficient to pay the normal tax imposed thereon by this title, and shall make return thereof on or before March first of each year and, on or before the time fixed by law for the payment of the tax, shall pay the amount withheld to the officer of the United States Government authorized to receive the same; and they are each hereby made personally liable for such tax, and they are each hereby indemnified against every person, corporation, partnership, association, or insurance company, or demand whatsoever for all payments which they shall make in pursuance and by virtue of this title."

CLAIMS "BILLY" SUNDAY IS NOT AUTHOR OF BIBLE STORIES

ALLLEGATIONS—as surprising to the publishers as to the public—regarding the authorship of "Great Love Stories of the Bible," published recently by G. P. Putnam's Sons and widely heralded as "Billy Sunday's first book," were made this week in a suit in the New York Court of Appeals in which a collaborator sought part of the royalties from the alleged "author"—who, it was claimed, is not Mr. Sunday. The complainant, Anna T. Burt, seeks to recover twenty-five per cent of the royalties from the book from Hugh C. Weir of New Rochelle, who, she claims, wrote the book and then, suggesting that it would be profitable if Mr. Sunday could be induced to lend his name as the ostensible author, told her he couldn't reach the evangelist, and promised a share of the royalties if she succeeded. Miss Burt says she did so, and the book was published under Mr. Sunday's name. A judgment of $250 was awarded Miss Burt by default as her share of royalties and the case will come up shortly before the Supreme Court of New York. Mr. Weir has admitted his having an agreement with Miss Burt but has made no further statement. The publishers, G. P. Putnam's Sons, have expressed surprise at the entire affair, for their contract is with Mr. Sunday alone and signed by his son with power of attorney for Mr. Sunday; the galleys were forwarded by them directly to Mr. Sunday in California and were returned with his corrections and foreword. The initial sentence in Mr. Sunday's foreword states that "This is the first book appearing under my authorship; to those who have assisted me in writing it, I wish to give credit." Nothing is said of collaborators beyond this nominal reference. In the last sentence of this foreword Mr. Sunday says, over a facsimile of his signature: "I have endeavored faithfully to follow, in each case, the facts of the Bible story. While the interpretation and application are from my viewpoint, I have tried to make my historical details exact and authentic."

AUTHOR AND PUBLISHER

Latter May Not Push New Book to Detriment of Title Already on His List

IN refusing defendant's motion to dismiss in the case of Roger Foster, author, v. Callaghan & Co., publishers, Judge Manton, of the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, recently handed down an opinion containing some decidedly interesting points bearing on the contractual relations between authors and publishers. Foster, a New York lawyer, wrote an extended legal work on Federal practice which Callaghan published, the author retaining the copyright. The publishers, some years later and after Foster's work had proved successful enough to go into a fifth edition, published and advertised, altho they had ceased advertising Foster's book widely, a treatise on the specialized criminal side of Federal practice. Foster brought suit, claiming the latter work was in violation of the spirit of his contract with the publishers, since his larger work contained some one hundred and twenty-five pages on Federal criminal practice.

Judge Manton, in denying the publishers' motion to dismiss, held that a publisher cannot compete with an author by the publication of another book which of itself affects the publication and sale of the book of the author and such a condition is implied, altho the contract contains no express covenant to that effect; furthermore, when the contract obliges the publisher to advertise and "otherwise promote the sale of" a book, he may be enjoined from so advertising another book as to interfere with the sale of the plaintiff's book; and, finally, in a proper case the court will interfere to restrain conduct which is contrary to a contract, altho it may be unable to enforce specific performance thereof.

Further comment on this case will appear later.

Bibles—(Continued)

Bible Publishing Houses

A. J. HOLMAN CO., PHILADELPHIA

THIS is the oldest Bible publishing house in America. Some of the editions associated with the name of Holman are:

"Holman Self-Pronouncing Text Bible" (without references or helps).

"Holman Concordance Bible."

"Pictorial Teachers' Bible."

"Red Letter Bible" (words of Jesus printed in red type).

"Linear Parallel Bible" (Authorized and Revised Versions in parallel columns).

THOMAS NELSON & SONS, NEW YORK

The house of Nelson's celebrates this year the 120th anniversary of its foundation in Edinburgh. The American branch was established in 1854.

The Bible most closely identified with the name of Nelson is the "American Standard Bible," which is the standard American edition of the Revised Version of the Bible. This edition has embodied in the text the preferred readings offered by the American members of the Revision Committee. Messrs. Thomas Nelson & Sons are the authorized publishers of the Revised Version in the United States. They publish an edition of the King James Version also. Some of the Nelson Bibles are:

"Nelson's Reference Bible."
"Nelson's Topical Helps Bible."
"Nelson's Teachers' Bible."
"Marginal Readings Bible" (including the Apocrypha).

"Boy Scout Bible" (official edition, authorized).

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS, AMERICAN BRANCH,
NEW YORK

The Oxford line of Bibles is the most extensive on the market. The most famous Oxford Bible is the "Scofield Reference Bible." Other well-known editions are:

"Oxford Teachers' Bible."

"Oxford Concordance Bible."

"New Century Bible."

"1911 Bible."

"Paragraph Bible" (King James Version divided into paragraphs instead of into verses).

"Revised Bible in Verses."

"Oxford Two-Version Bible."

"Oxford Interleaved Bible" (blank pages for notes).

"Oxford Wide Margin Bible" (for marginal notes).

"Bible in Modern English" (translated by Ferrar Fenton). $4.85.

"Old Testament Apocrypha" (King James Version).

"Old Testament Apocrypha" (Revised Version).

"New Testament Apocrypha."

"Boy Scout Bible."

JAMES POTT & CO., NEW YORK

This house issues the "Cambridge" and "Bagster" Bibles in the open flat "unbreakable back" patent binding. The King James version only is found in the "Cambridge" and "Bagster" Bibles. Some of the editions are:

"Cambridge Paragraph Bible."

"Self-Explaining Bible."

"Cambridge Wide Margin Bible."

"Holy Bible with Tissot Illustrations."

"Bagster Complete Red Letter Bible."

"Boy Scout's Bible."

JOHN C. WINSTON CO., PHILADELPHIA

This house issues the largest line of self-pronouncing Bibles in the world. It is the owner of the "International" series of Bibles, which come in the following editions, as well as in many more:

"International Divinity Circuit Bibles" (Bibles that are absolutely flexible, bound in the Government Test Bindings).

"International Text Bible."

"Black Face Type Reference Bible."

"International Workers' Bible."

"Reference Revised Bible" (with text divided into verses, instead of into the usual paragraphs. Suitable for responsive readings).

"Comparative Revised Bible" (the three version Bible, giving the text in the Revised Version of the British Committee, with footnotes of the King James Version, and of the preferred American readings).

"New International Law Library Bible."

Pulpit Bibles.

Family Bibles.

"Boy Scouts' Bible" (sanctioned by the Boy Scouts of America).

J. B. LIPPINCOTT CO., PHILADELPHIA

"Temple Bible." 31 volumes; 50 cents each.

(Twenty-five of the volumes are devoted to the books of the Bible. Six volumes are devoted to the books of the Apocrypha. Each volume contains an introduction dealing with the authorship, the history and the character of the books.)

MACMILLAN COMPANY, NEW YORK

"Modern Reader's Bible." Edited by Richard G. Moulton. $2. In separate volumes, 21 volumes, 50 cents each.

"The Bible is the worst printed book in the world." It is made up of epics, lyrics, odes, sonnets, dramas, essays, histories, and all these literary forms are printed alike in the King

James version. The Revised Version makes a distinction between poetry and prose, but prints all verse forms alike.

The "Modern Reader's Bible" presents the books of the Bible in "modern literary form"; that is, in the typographical form in which lyrics, sonnets, and dramatic dialogs are presented at the present time. When the text is in dialog, the speakers are indicated. When a refrain occurs, it is entitled a Refrain and printed in italics. The acrostic psalms are arranged in acrostic form. When a book has a prologue and an epilogue, these parts are separated from the body of the context.

The "Modern Reader's Bible" is based upon the Revised Version but the text is one for which the Editor holds himself solely responsible. The usual order of the books is changed. The books are grouped according to subject, as narrative books, prophetic books, poetical books. Three books of the Apocrypha are included: Ecclesiasticus, Tobit, and the Wisdom of Solomon.

"The Literary Study of the Bible" by Richard G. Moulton (D. C. Heath) is the most helpful companion volume to the "Modern Reader's Bible" or to any other edition. It is an account of the leading forms of literature represented in the sacred writings, with a most clarifying analysis of the various literary structures.

"Bible for Home and School." Edited by Shailer Mathews. 12 volumes. (Ranging in price from 50 cents to 75 cents.)

FUNK & WAGNALLS CO., NEW YORK

"Hexaglot Bible." 6 volumes; $40.

This work presents the Scriptures of the Old Testament in six languages: Hebrew, Greek, Latin, English, German, and French. The New Testament in Greek, Syriac, Latin, English, German, and French. The texts are arranged in six parallel columns, three columns on each of two opposite pages.

"Pulpit Bible." $15.

"Sermon Bible." 12 volumes; $18.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS, NEW YORK

"Cambridge Bible for Schools and Colleges." 59 volumes, ranging in price from 30 cents to $1.75.

HOUGHTON MIFFLIN CO., BOSTON

"Riverside Parallel Bible." $5.

(King James and Revised Versions in parallel columns.)

E. P. DUTTON & CO., NEW YORK

Bible. Old Testament. Everyman's Library; 60 cents.

Bible. New Testament. Everyman's Library; 60 cents.

This edition of the Bible is the King James Version. A valuable bibliography of English translations of the Bible is included.

CENTURY CO., NEW YORK

"The Bible for Young People." $1.50.

(With the omission of such passages as seem unsuitable for children. Founded on the King James Version.)

GEORGE H. DORAN CO., NEW YORK

"A New Translation of the New Testament." By James Moffat. $1.50.

BENZIGER BROTHERS, NEW YORK

The Holy Bible. (Roman Catholic.)

(With complete index of persons and places mentioned in the Bible.)

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY

Bibles, Testaments, and Portions of the Bible in Foreign Languages.

The American Bible Society publishes the Bible in Chinese, Choctaw, Danish, Esperanto, French, German, Greek, Hebrew, Irish, Italian, Japanese, Polish, Russian, Spanish, Welsh, Yiddish, as well as many other languages.

Students of foreign languages will find the parallel Testaments of the American Bible Society of great help in learning a foreign language. The Dutch, French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, Swedish, and Welsh New Testaments all come in parallel columns with the English.

[In addition to the above the line of Catholic Bibles published by the John Murphy Co. of Baltimore, and the "Literary Man's New Testament" by W. L. Courtney, with "the books arranged in chronological order with introductory essays and annotations" published by Dutton should be noted. Every bookseller should familiarize himself with the pages devoted to Bibles in the Wilson "U. S. Catalog." Here, grouped under various convenient sub-headings, one finds Bibles and parts of Bibles in English and other languages and at prices to suit widely varying pocket-books. The war has caused such increases in the cost of certain books, particularly those like Bibles bound in leather, that one should avoid quoting prices from these earlier "U. S. Catalogs" without first verifying them in the "Trade List Annual."—EDITOR PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY.]

INCREASING BIBLE SALES

NO line is so easy to overlook when the question of speeding up turnover is under discussion as that rather uninteresting looking collection of boxed volumes in the Bible and religious book department. The book clerk can see the effect of big advertising campaigns upon fiction and war books, but Bibles—"I guess anybody who wants a new one will come in and get it."

In reality few lines respond more readily to a little intensive salesmanship. Two incidents of this sort are cited by Charles Korbel, for seventeen years a traveler for the Oxford University Press, in a paper submitted recently in the "Suggestive Salesmanship" contest of the American Booksellers' Association.

"In a Middle-West town," says Mr. Korbel, "there are two first-class bookstores. When we first published the 'Scofield Bible' I introduced it to both of them. The one dealer bought a few copies because I said it was a good thing and would sell. The other listened more interestedly to its features, as I explained them, and wanted a copy for his own use.

"He got one and made himself familiar with it. Then every customer who came into his store, known or thought to be interested in the Bible, was told all about the 'Scofield Bible.'

"As a result he has built up a 'Scofield

Bible' business which now amounts annually to fifteen times more than that of his competitor, who is content to wait until a customer asks for this particular Bible. Nor has he had outside help from 'Billy Sunday' or other revivals. Neither has his general Bible business suffered in consequence. In fact, I am safe in saying that this same suggestive salesmanship policy has contributed to the steady annual increase, which my order books record.

"It has simply produced additional business and additional profits, gained by salesmanship, which is nothing more than knowing the merchandise you are selling, and knowing how to convince a potential customer of its merits; and, in my opinion, what can be done with Bibles can be done in other lines."

In the other case cited by Mr. Korbell a dealer asked him if a local minister could look over the Oxford line in the traveler's trunk in order to select a suitable Bible for a Sunday school class. The minister wanted ten copies, but the dealer had nothing in stock that exactly suited him. "The next day, at the hour arranged, he appeared at the hotel and, after introducing himself, gave me an idea of what he wanted: 'A Bible, good print, pocket size, good binding, etc., etc., not to cost over $2.00 to $2.50.'

"I showed him many styles at about the price desired, then I went higher, but, as this incident is not the purpose of my story, I will end it here by saying that he finally selected one retailing at $3.50, which, in itself, proves the advantage of knowing your stock.

"After this was satisfactorily settled and arranged, he stepped back from the sample tables, and admiringly glanced up and down my array of samples. I saw his eyes scanning the show cards tacked on the wall, and as they reached one featuring the 'Scofield Bible,' I asked him if he was familiar with it. He replied 'No, I have never seen one.' Whereupon I took out a sample and explained its various features to him, accompanied by his most interested and approving comments, and, to make a long story short, tho he possessed, as he told me, more than a dozen different Bibles, he purchased then and there one of the India paper copies selling for $9.00.

"I am sure you have not missed the point. This man came in to select a Bible for a Sunday-school class, and before he left he also bought one for himself, not to overlook the better book he selected for his class, meaning a larger sale and greater profits for the dealer.

"What I did here every sales-person in the retail store could do, if he would only familiarize himself with his stock on hand."

POSTAL NOTES

Parcel Post Limit Raised

As a means of stimulating movement of farm products to the consumer, Postmaster General Burleson has increased the allowable weights of parcel post packages, effective

March 15. Packages when mailed in the first or second zones for delivery in the first, second or third zones may thereafter be as heavy as seventy pounds. They now are restricted to fifty. The weight limit for all other zones was increased from twenty to fifty pounds.

BOOK-TRADE ASSOCIATIONS

American Publishers' Copyright League Committee Appointed

FOLLOWING a decision at a recent meeting of the American Publishers' Copyright League that a Committee of Five be appointed to take charge of the general business of the League and to co-operate with the Secretary in the correspondence of the League, the following have been appointed: Alfred Harcourt, A. F. Houghton, John Macrae, Arthur H. Scribner, and Frederick A. Stokes.

Dinner of Stationers and Publishers Board of Trade

THE forty-third anniversary dinner of the Stationers and Publishers Board of Trade will be held at the Biltmore on Saturday, March 23. The tickets are six dollars a cover. Further announcement regarding the dinner will be made later.

OBITUARY NOTES

CHARLES L. BOWMAN, head of the firm of Charles L. Bowman & Co., 225 Fifth Ave., New York, died at San Diego, California, on March 4th, where he has been living for some months past in search of health. Mr. Bowman was born in Virginia and started in book-selling in 1885 as the Baltimore representative of the Home Library Association of Chicago, and came with the concern when it removed its headquarters to New York in 1888. From this small beginning of an exclusive mail order business in books he built up an organization which is now one of the best known businesses in its special field. His frequently issued catalogs, to the preparation of which he gave the most minute care, were models in their way and had the impress of his strong literary enthusiasms. For a number of years prior to five years ago, when his health compelled long absences in Arizona and California, he made annual trips to the English book market to buy "remainders" and pick up rare items. He was one of the charter members of the New York Booksellers' League, serving as president in 1904, and as a member of the Board of Managers for fifteen years. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons, one of whom, Herbert L. Bowman, has been in his father's office for the past two years. The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Managers of the Booksellers' League:

It is with sincere sorrow and regret that we hear of the death of our fellow member Charles L. Bowman.

As a bookseller he had built up a large trade by his careful attention to detail, his love of books and his conscientious adherence to honesty and fair dealing. He had endeared himself to all who knew him as a genial associate, a faithful friend, and an able co-worker for the welfare of the trade.

As a member of the League he was ever ready to promote its success and he contributed liberally in every requisite effort to carry it thru its struggles in its early days, serving ably as its President and on its committees. We shall long miss his council and his presence at our meetings.

PERSONAL NOTES

JOHN BUSH, with the American Baptist Publication Society for about twelve years, has left to take up a position with one of the shipbuilding concerns in New Jersey.

JAMES W. LEGALLEZ has resigned his position as manager of Jacob's Book Store in Philadelphia to accept the position of manager of the Book Promotion Department of the Philadelphia North American. Mr. LeGallez assisted the North American in the "Buy Books for Soldiers and Sailors" campaign of last fall and the earlier "Why You Should Own and Read Books" campaign.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES

THE RONALD PRESS has inaugurated a house organ under the title Ronald Prestige.

THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION began on March 4 taking evidence offered by manufacturers of news print paper regarding present costs in that industry.

SENATOR SLATER has introduced a bill into the New York Legislature to create a commission to examine text-books used in the public schools of the state to determine whether they contain disloyal matter.

THREE MEN were held in Scranton this week to answer in the United States Court for the circulation of alleged seditious literature in the form of books published by the Pastor Russell concern of Brooklyn.

THE ENGLISH PUBLISHERS, Sampson Low, Marston & Co., Ltd., and Nimmo, Hay & Mitchell, Ltd., have inaugurated with the new year the practice of submitting trade accounts monthly instead of quarterly.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT Co. announce an advance in the list prices of a large number of their publications, owing to the increased cost of manufacture. The new prices went into effect March 1st. Their new order list is now ready and will be mailed on request.

THE SERIES OF ARTICLES on "Germany's Plots Exposed" in the World's Work, by John R. Rothom, editor of the Providence Journal, were discontinued after the publication of the first article. "Motives of patriotism" are given as the excuse for the discontinuance of the series. The articles had been featured largely and had resulted, it is asserted, in an increase in circulation of from 130,000 to nearly 200,000.

DETECTIVE STORIES cling tenaciously to the perch of literary respectability. Just when some critic aims an unfeeling attack upon the whole parcel of them, along come the newspaper headlines announcing: "Roosevelt Reads Detective Story in Hospital." Felix Adler, leader of the New York Ethical Culture Society, is another "notable" addicted to the detective story habit.

OWING TO THE CONGESTION caused by the movement of troops and the recent wholesale recourse to express for shipments formerly sent by freight, the Adams Express Co. has notified shippers that, except for shipments by or to the Government, an immediate embargo is effective on all shipments requiring a separate car or weighing over 300 pounds originating at or destined to any point east of Chicago or St. Louis and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION in the Massachusetts Supreme Court on March 4 held that editorial recommendation of an advertiser's product made in good faith does not render the periodical or newspaper liable to damages thru the failure of said advertiser to live up to his representations. George M. Heathcote of Boston sought to recover from the Curtis Publishing Co. on the ground that his wife had been led thru the reading of an editorial in the Saturday Evening Post to make a contract with the North American Construction Co. for building a house and that the work was not satisfactory. The editorial in question, it was contended, guaranteed "the honesty, integrity, trustworthiness, and financial standing of advertisers using the columns of the magazine. The editorial, the court held, however, was not strictly a guarantee to answer for the debt or default of another, but was in effect merely a recommendation of the advertisers as reliable and honest. The court found that, while there was evidence that the North American Construction Co. failed to perform its contract, there was no evidence that the company was engaged in a fraudulent business, was financially irresponsible, or was in the habit of intentionally deceiving people.

BUSINESS NOTES

CHICAGO.—The Butterick Co. of New York has erected at 2231-49 South Park Avenue a four-story, reinforced concrete building with 75,000 square feet of floor space which is to serve as a manufacturing and distributing center for the Middle West.

EVANSTON, ILL.—The Grace Gholson Book-Shop is reported to be in bankruptcy.

KANSAS CITY, MO.—The American Baptist Publication Society has opened a branch here at 1107 McGee Street. Wiley J. Smith, formerly of the Baptist Book Concern, Louisville, has been appointed business manager.

LONDON, ENG.—Chatto & Windus have removed from the premises which they have occupied since 1896 to others, more commodious, at 97 and 99 St. Martin's Lane, W. C. 2.

LONDON, ENG.—The publishing business of Messrs. Skeffington & Son has been turned into a limited company, in which Walter Hutchinson has acquired the controlling interest. The theological side will be maintained as strongly as in previous years, but there will be considerable expansion in the publication of fiction and general literature. Among other features will be a series of reprints of popular novels.

NEW YORK CITY.—J. F. Sabin has removed from 22 Pine Street to 14 Cortlandt Street.

NEW YORK CITY.—Monarch Manifold Book Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000. The incorporators are: A. Foshay, A. G. Chaanum, and A. Skillman.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Fellowship Press, Inc., printer and bookseller, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $1000 by G. A. Beaver, N. M. Thomas and H. A. Hatch.

NEW YORK CITY.—The Greenhut Co., Inc., which has conducted the big department store at Sixth Avenue and Nineteenth street for many years, announced this week that it will shortly wind up its business. The company is fully solvent, the reason for the liquidation being rather that the uptown movement in the New York trade has left it high and dry in an unfavorable retailing locality. Stock will be disposed of in a series of retail sales, details of which will be announced later.

AUCTION SALES

THE SALE OF Americana collected by Stephen Caplin of Brooklyn was held at the Anderson Galleries on February 19th and 20th. The grand total was $13,208:

George D. Smith paid the top price, $355, for the copy of Decius' letters on the opposition to the new constitution in Virginia in 1789, believed to be the only complete copy extant. Other items were: Original ed. of the earliest printed account of the "Proceedings of the Congress held at New York in 1765 on the subject of the American Stamp Act," George D. Smith, $260; "Letter from Freeman, of South Carolina, to the Deputies of North Carolina, Assembled in High Court of Congress at Philadelphia," Charleston, S. C., 1774, by William Henry Grayton, Christopher Gadsen, John Mackenzie and others, bearing the autograph of General Alexander McDougall, officer in the Revolution, on the title page; George D. Smith, $205.

THE WRENN LIBRARY, a collection of original manuscripts and first editions dating from the pre-Shakespearian period, was sold on February 26 to the University of Texas for $225,000. The money for the purchase was a gift of Major George W. Littlefield, of Austin, Texas. The library was collected by the late John H. Wrenn, of Chicago. Mr. Robert Evinson, president of the University of Texas, estimated the value of the library at $500,000.

Index to Spring Announcements

In this department the announcement of books to be published during the Spring are indexed under author and title, with as much information as publishers were ready to give in advance of publication. Books appearing before February 9 in our "Weekly Record of New Publications" are not included. Titles beginning with an unimportant word are usually inverted, so that a book on a given subject will be listed under its subject title if possible.

Old David Findley, pauper and idealist, cherishes the ambition of turning a waterfall to account and making millions. By the town folk he is considered crazy, but Lois Sinclair, an intuitive young girl, and Jasper Randall, a young engineer, are kind to him. Old David's chimerical millions become real, and are the cause of his murder. Young Randall is accused on circumstantial evidence, but the real criminal confesses. The young people's romance comes to a happy conclusion and a substantial legacy from old David assures their future comfort.

Chris Baldry, injured in the war, suffers from a peculiar mental disease. Everything that has happened within the past fifteen years is a blank. He returns to his love for Margaret, the inn-keeper's daughter, and does not know his pretty but shallow wife, Kitty. A specialist in psycho-analysis explains the fact that Chris was not happy in his seemingly perfect life at Baldry Court with Kitty and that his subconscious self has effaced the memory of this life because he subconsciously wished to forget it. Story really centers about Margaret, and in the end it is she who voluntarily brings Chris back to his real self and to Kitty.

(Back section, unspecified position)

One page 30 00
Half page 17 00
Quarter page 9 00
Eighth page 5 00
One-sixteenth page 2 50

The above rates are for unspecified positions. Special rates for preferred positions (full pages only).

Higher rates are charged for the Summer Reading, Educational Number and Christmas Bookshelf, and for the monthly Book Review supplement sections.

Advertising copy should reach us Tuesday noon—earlier if proof is desired out-of-town. Forms close Thursday night.

Under the headings of "BOOKS WANTED" and "BOOKS FOR SALE" book-trade subscribers are given under their own names five nonpareil lines (exclusive of address) free advertising for specified books, not more than one title to the line, in any issue except special numbers, but not exceeding one hundred lines a year, a maximum of fifty lines under "Books Wanted" and fifty lines under "Books for Sale," and if over five lines are sent for either department in only one issue, or fifty lines for each department within the calendar year, the excess is at ten cents a line. Bills for this service will be rendered monthly. Objectionable books are excluded so far as they are noted.

"Books Wanted" must be designated by actual title, not by "any."

Write your wants plainly, on one side of the sheet only. Illegible "wants" are ignored. The WEEKLY is not responsible for errors. Parties with whom there is no account must pay in advance.

Under "HELP WANTED" or for other small undisplayed advertisements, the charge is 15 cents a nonpareil line. No reduction for repeated matter. Count seven words to the line.

The Wonderful Story of JOAN OF ARC

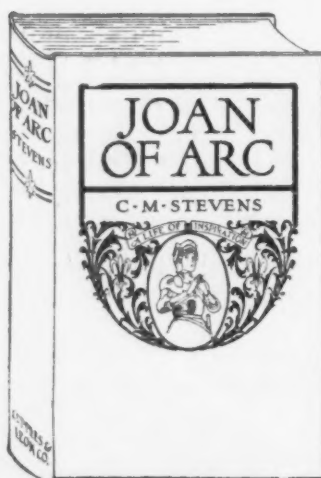

and the Meaning of Her Life for Americans

By C. M. STEVENS

Author of "Washington," "Lincoln," "Bible Stories," etc.

Large 12mo, cloth, 352 pages, illustrated, elaborate symbolic design in gold.

Price, $1.50 net.

American readers are becoming interested in this Wonderful Woman. They want to understand her unsurpassed career and to appreciate her unconquerable soul. The time has come for Americans to share in the great human interest of her, and to realize the inspiring ideal of her womanhood and humanity. This book shows how she is one of the immortal few whose life surpasses biography, whose career is more than history, and whose character is a sublime type of the human struggle. Joan of Arc is a revelation of the greatest of woman interests, the greatest of religious interests and the greatest of patriotic interests. This book is rich with romantic and educational meaning and value for all classes of readers.

"Who opposes me I will crush to pieces!"—William II, Emperor of Germany.

A Survey of International Relations Between the United States and Germany

August 1, 1914—April 6, 1917

(BASED ON OFFICIAL DOCUMENTS)

By JAMES BROWN SCOTT

Doctor of Jurisprudence of the University of Heidelberg; President of the American Institute of International Law; Major and Judge Advocate, United States Reserves

REVIEWS

"One of the really great books thus far produced about the war. . . . A record which, if all other books in the world were to be destroyed, would itself alone be an abundant condemnation of Germany and an abundant vindication of our present course in warring against the Hun. Whatever else we may or may not read about the war, its antecedents and its causes, this is a volume which no one desiring the fullest information on the best authority can well afford to miss. The nation is greatly the debtor of Dr. Scott for his having written it."—New York Tribune.

"The most comprehensive, thorough, and systematic presentation of German-American relations since the outbreak of the war that has yet appeared. . . ."—N. Y. Evening Post.

"It is the most damning array of evidence yet adduced. . . . We have in this exhaustive survey a complete reference work for all Americans who wish to have at hand a compact statement of German aims and the methods of attaining those aims."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

"... No writer has ever contrasted with more force the viewpoint of the Prussian autocrat with the principles of the American democrat. One is a better and prouder American for having read this book."—Philadelphia Press.

"The most powerful and interesting presentation of the legal case of the United States against Germany which has yet appeared. The first chapter, entitled 'The Genesis of the War of 1914,' is as interesting as a novel. James Brown Scott has written a most informing book. It tells the story of how and why we have gone into the war better than it has yet been told by anybody else. The author is a scholar without pedantry; a historian gifted with imagination; a broad-minded lawyer, unfettered by technicalities. This volume is as readily comprehensible by laymen as by professional readers; and to both classes it will prove an invaluable book of reference concerning the events leading up to the participation of the United States in the greatest war in history."—N. Y. Sun.

No book is more interesting or more important than the story of the Birth and Progress of Old Glory.

The Origin and History of THE AMERICAN FLAG and of the Naval and Yacht Club Signals, Seals and Arms, Principal National Songs of United States, with a Chronicle of Symbols, Standards, Banners and Flags of Ancient and Modern Nations

By GEORGE HENRY PREBLE, Rear-Admiral U. S. N.

1917 Edition

800 pages of intensive reading. In Two Large Octavo Volumes with 239 Illustrations, from color-plates, wood cuts, maps and autographies. $7.50 the set.

"That is extremely good."—THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
"You have rendered the public a great service. This publication is most appropriate at this time, because the whole country has been aroused, as not before in a generation, to a true appreciation of the significance of the Flag in its true meaning."—JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy.
"An encyclopaedia of Flag Lore."—Evening Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

A history of the Flag is not only a history of the American people, but of their ideals, aspirations and achievements. We are told of every occasion and battle, of every place in peace or war, where it has waved; whether in behalf of the oppressed or for a righteous cause. The book has permanent value and will never grow out of date.

New Edition

SONNETS from the PATAGONIAN

BY DONALD EVANS.

This author's name is quite familiar to lovers of modern poetry. When "The Sonnets from the Patagonian" first appeared in 1914, it was instantly a sensation, and for that entire winter was a major topic in literary circles. In six weeks' time every line of the book had been quoted in various reviews.

The Kansas City Post said:

"Elusively beautiful, yet strangely obscure, the 'Sonnets from the Patagonian' are unique examples of ultra-modern verse. Retaining the conventional form of the revised Italian sonnet, their content is distinctively original. In strange figures and oddly abstract phrases, which decorate a lurking thought without fully revealing it, the verses are fascinating."

"It is the jealous devotion to the integrity of the word, as of a lover to his mistress," wrote Pitts Sanborn in the New York Globe, "that gives his writing its superior intensity and vitality."

This edition is limited to 750 copies, printed from type, on Alexandra Japan plate paper, and handsomely bound in boards. Ready April 6th.

Price $1.50 net.

THE AWAKENING OF SPRING

BY FRANK WEDEKIND.

This tragedy of adolescence is now in its 6th edition. It has received more reviews than any play published within the last eight years. Over 15,000 copies of this book have been sold since its publication in December, 1909, and the orders are coming in as briskly as if it were just published.

These studies of adolescence are as impressive as they are unique.—The Athenaeum, London.

The book is not one to be read lightly nor lightly to be set aside. It has a message that may well be learned here as elsewhere, and it witnesses to a high purpose in its author and to a brave spirit.—New York Times Book Review.

Cloth, $1.25 net.

THE MASTER

An authorized translation from the German of HERMAN BAHR, by Benjamin F. Glazer.

This daring play created a sensation when produced in New York last season, and is now playing at the Hudson Theatre, New York. Ready April 15th.

Author of "San Celestino," "Faustula," "French Windows," Etc.

THE TIDEWAY

8vo. Cloth, 400 Pages, Net $1.50

John Ayscough is one of the few story tellers who charm the literary critic and rejoice the popular audience alike. A master of style, he possesses the secret of how to embody in a brilliant literary setting the sympathy, humanity, and tenderness of a love story which goes straight to the heart of the greater public. Countless thousands have been captivated by his novels in the past, and in this new book, "The Tideway," we have in abundant measure the characteristic and stimulating pictures of life which give to this author his special niche in the temple of present-day fiction.
